Presents

Anti-Bullying Symposium

August 10, 2011 ~ 8:30 am to 4:30 pm

National Conference Center

East Windsor, New Jersey

The recently passed Anti-Bullying Bill of Rights Law will take effect in September 2011. Schools must implement this law and begin training by January 2012. In response to this, NJASRO is offering a one day Anti-Bullying Symposium which will address the following issues:

- To express the importance of collaboration amongst Law Enforcement, Educators, Students and Parents
- To implement strategies planned for schools and how Law Enforcement fits in
- To examine Law Enforcement Investigation responsibilities
- To assist the Anti-Bullying Specialist in understanding proper investigation, documentation and reporting techniques
- To discuss potential counseling conflicts
- To address unique and challenging issues in urban districts as per the new legislation
